"Experience of a Football Match that I played well"

A memory I remember fondly is the time I played very well in a football match. I had practiced for the match for weeks so that we could win. On the day of the match, I scored many goals and my team could win because of it. It happened last year at our school. It was a hot summer day. My team and I had practiced very hard for this match as it was the final match of the season.

Because of my performance, along with my teammates, we could win against our our opponents. After the match, my teammates and my coach congratulated me for scoring so many goals. My coach said, "Well done, you did really well." It made me feel very proud. I felt my hard work had finally paid off. I cherish this memory greatly and I will always remember it with fondness.

"An Unhappy Situation"

Last year I was upset after a football match because our team could not win against the rival team. It was the final match of the season. We had all worked very hard for the match and practiced so we could win. But our opponents were stronger and we lost, even though we had tried our best. I felt very upset. After the match, our coach noticed how upset we were. He consoled us and tried to lift our spirits.

He told us "Don't worry." And proceeded to tell us how well we had played on the field. By telling us how well we had done, even though we had not won match, he helped us feel better about ourselves. After the words of consolation from him, I felt better. I felt confident again and I hoped to win the next match. This is how our coach helped us overcome the situation.
